Three Points and No Poem by Justin Weber

I heard a great sermon recently, unfortunately it wasn't mine. It was once said that good sermons had three points and a poem. This sermon had three poignant points but no poem. Bob and Hope Carter, 25 year veterans as African Missionaries dropped by a couple of weeks ago during their year long furlough. They shared during the Christian Education hour and then Bob preached, and he preached well. Bob reminded us that believers are incarnational, mirroring within us the good news of Christ. But for that to be transmitted we also must be relational building relationships with non-believers and meeting their needs in practical ways. Practical acts give non-believers a sense of belonging which enhances their capacity in believing! This leads to a third dynamic of the gospel which is transformational. People's minds will be reshaped, and reoriented toward Christ when they see the Living Message incarnate through relationships. The incarnated gospel alters folk! We follow a God who chose to incarnate Himself in the person of Jesus, who was and is relational speaking to our deepest needs, and transforming our perceptions and place in the cosmos. This is the Master Servant we are called to follow. Sadly, many Christian fellowships huddle up and primarily take care of themselves, which isn't necessarily wrong; it just doesn't go far enough. Us first, neighbors second, reflects a self-absorbed huddled up faith community. God's multifaceted personality reached out and reaches out to the neighbor (the world) desiring to embrace and include all in the family of God. May we meditate on Bob's message asking, "Do we really comprehend that we are the incarnation of the good news?" Who am I in relationship with that needs to see the gospel manifested in practical acts which may help them believe? Are the non-believers I am in relationship with beginning to view the world differently because of the good news partially enfleshed within me? May we all be found incarnating, relating, and being agents of transformation for the sake of Christ and the world.

"Rest is not idleness," said John Lubbock, "and to lie sometimes on the grass on a summer day listening to the murmur of water or watching the clouds float across the sky is hardly a waste of time."

Most of us need more, not less, rest built into our daily routine. Only when we are quiet can we hear God's whisper.

Summer is a great time to find a peaceful, outdoor spot to read, rest and pray—even if only for a few minutes. God is eagerly waiting for us to make space for Him.

Kids For Kids

The 5th grade Sunday School class has adopted this mission project as a challenge to raise money to help support the Friends Theological Seminary in Kenya, Africa. It involves purchasing dairy goats for the students so that they can raise the goats to generate income for the college.

The kids in our 5th grade class are going to have a WALK-A-THON to be held on June 18. They will walk from the Deer Park to Swan Lake in Pine Lake State Park. You can help the class raise money by making pledges and donations for the walk. Please sign the poster on the bulletin board in the foyer at the church, or contact me.

This nationwide missions project has an overall goal of raising $10,000. The goal for the 5th graders is to raise $500. They would appreciate each and every donation! Thank you for helping to make missions come alive for these students!

Clean-up Day at Camp Quaker Heights

The annual camp clean-up day was a great success! Over 50 adults and kids came to help out with the effort. A new addition to the camp was a carved log for Tall Oaks Lodge that was done by our own Chip Daleske.

Bike Donations Needed!

Part of getting camp ready is performing general maintenance on the summer equipment. One such item is the bikes that are available for campers to use during their stay. There is a need for some GOOD used bikes for camp. If you have a bike (any size including children sizes)

Please contact Linda Garrison at 641-751-4088 to let her know that you have bike to donate.

Speaker: Tony Wheeler, Ph.D

Dr. Tony Wheeler, President of The Dr. John Trent Institute for the Blessing at Barclay College will be focusing on aspects of relationship building, regardless of age or life experience. Every person can use a crash course in developing and maintaining healthy relationships, whether in a marriage, with a family, at work, at school, and even in the church. We have a ‘relationship’ with every individual we come in contact with during the course of a day. At this camp we will teach how to live out the Blessing, even with strangers, and how to deepen those relationships.

History of the Flag

-The flag was first authorized by Congress, June 14, 1777.

-The colors of the flag: The red is for valor, zeal and fervency; the white for hope, purity, cleanliness of life, and rectitude of conduct; the blue, the color of heaven, for reverence to God, loyalty, sincerity, justice and truth.

-The symbolism of the flag was thus interpreted by Washington; "We take the stars from Heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing Liberty."
